BRIDGE NEARING COMPLETION.

The new bridge which will form one of the essential parts of the 40-foot roadway which will be constructed up Tombstone Canyon, is rapidly nearing completion. The main walls, which will form a culvert through which the drainage from the canyon will pass, have been erected, and one of the solid concrete piers has already been constructed at the north end. It is expected that the concrete work at Castle Rock will be completed within the next couple of weeks.

COUNTRY CLUB IN FULL SWING FOR GOLFERS

Expert Adams Arrives and Will Be At the Grounds Each Day To Give Help and Instruction to Local Players.

Sunday was a magnificent day from the weather standpoint, and nowhere was the sunshine softer or more balmy than at the Country Club grounds. During the day fully 100 members and 300 sightseers visited the grounds, where they found Secretary Youkum ready to receive them and make them feel at home.

John Adams, the golf expert, who has arrived from Douglas to stay among Bisbee golfers, is one of the most pleasant gentlemen to meet. Mr. Adams will be at the grounds from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and can be found at the hotel evenings. It is particularly desired that all members learn the game.

Particular interest is being shown in the new rifle range, which will be one of the finest in the country. Secretary Youkum gives the Review the following information:

C. N. Henkel, the Main Street jeweler, will give a lovingston to the Country Club grounds, to be used by any member of the Warren District Country Club who makes the best score on the rifle range. The committee on rifle range to have full charge of same, as to distance, shooting time of day and kind and caliber of rifle, if any this committee will decide at their meeting next Wednesday evening. This being the first day that there will be any shooting allowed on the range Mr. Henkel thought it would be nice to offer a cup, as all will be on an equal as to practice on the range. Barring accidents the 25, 50, 200, 500, 1,000 yard ranges will be fixed so as members may practice. The gun house will be built in the near future, also trap shooting range will be commenced at once. General Godfrey spent some hours on the range, inspecting the pits as to safety and equipment, and after making a few changes as to safety the general pronounced the rifle range, pits and general equipment equal to any. The pits are 632x8 feet deep, the targets will be the latest model, as used in the army. It will be well for all to bring their field glasses, in case they shoot at the 1,000 yard target, the targets being 6x12, bulls eye 3 feet square. All scores will be kept by the committee in charge, so as to know the best shots for competition. It is the desire of the club to send our best shots to Prescott this fall, and if possible hold up their end will set a trip to Ohio to the general United States shoots the following month. All members of the club are entitled to use the range and use any gun they wish. Only in competition at special shoots will there be any particular gun used. There has been some dozen of the members to order the late model Springfield, which is now used by the government.

To the Members of the Warren District Country Club:

The rifle range will be open to all members of the club, but we want you to enroll with the rifle club.

1st. Because there is no extra cost and no army obligation.

2nd. Because we are privileged to buy the government guns and ammunition at cost price.

3rd. Because you may be a crack shot and we need you.

4th. Because if you shoot a rifle or pistol we need you anyway. In a few days we will send you notice when the range will be opened.

Range Committee—W. H. Angar, chairman; F. R. O'Brien, C. M. Henkel, John Foster, F. C. Hurst, Harry Wheeler.

MAKE HIT AT ROYAL.

The life moving pictures portraying the battle between Britton Nelson and Jimmy Britt for the lightweight championship of the world were presented for the first time in Bisbee at the Theater Royal last evening and attracted a large crowd. There is no doubt that this picture was "the article as advertised." The subject of the film was one of the greatest ring battles ever fought in the history of the game, and the movements of the pugilists were pictured in such a realistic manner that the audience had probably just as good an idea of what went on, as those who were actually present and saw the combatants in flesh and blood. The film is more than a mile long and has been produced at an enormous cost.

The change in the regular program which was put on last evening was especially pleasing. The new films are up to date in every particular, being the latest product of the art. "The Ice Industry in Sweden" is an instructive picture, while "August the Monkey" displays to what a remarkable degree the brutes of the lower creation can be trained. J. M. Denton in illustrated songs proved a big favorite.

HIGHWAYMAN OPERATING IN DISTRICT

Holds Up Same Chinese Twice Within Three Weeks—Probable That He Will Be Taken Into Custody.

Somewhere in the Warren District there is an individual whose name is considered his duty to hold up a certain Chinese on the public highway every time he thinks the celestial has money on his person and relieve him of it. Up to the present time this individual has done the same thing twice within a period of three weeks, and although still at large it is probable he will be taken into custody today.

Wang Chang, who runs a truck garden in the San Pedro Valley in the vicinity of Lordsburg, with his partner, arrived in the city on Saturday by way of Tombstone Canyon, and after disposing of his produce started on the homeward trip Sunday afternoon in his wagon.

When he reached a point on the road where an old timer named "Dick" Lockett lives, the wife of the latter, he stated, told him to be careful, that a "bad" man had ridden down ahead. The Chinese thought little of the matter and went on until he reached the opening of the canyon, about a mile distant from the Bisbee Extension mining property. A man with his face masked suddenly stepped into the road and commanded the Chinese to throw up their hands.

He climbed on the wagon and searched them, securing $14 from one, and $14.75 from the other. Not satisfied with his loot he came to the conclusion that the celestials had more money hidden in the wagon, and proceeded to examine all of the packages, but found nothing.

Turning on his victims with an oath he told them that they had better have more money the next time, or they would be killed. He said he had a wife and five children to support. He then told the Chinese not to return to Bisbee under pain of death, and backed off into the brush, where he secured his horse, and rode towards the city.

The Chinese immediately drove to the Bisbee Extension where they sold their produce, and a posse was made up. The trail of the highwayman was followed into the city. The local officers immediately started to work on the case, but although they discovered a couple of valuable clues no one has been arrested up to the present time. Fortunately for the community the highwayman allowed his mask to slip from his face Sunday and the Chinese would know him if they see him again.

About three weeks ago Wang Chang was held up at a point on the Tombstone Canyon road, a short distance past the divide, and forced to give up $50 in money as well as a silver watch. The peculiar part of the affair is that the celestial is positive the same man did both jobs.

The taking of the silver watch from the Chinese at the first hold-up will probably prove to be the robber's undoing, as when he was drinking, he pawned the time-piece in the city, and the police have simply been waiting for additional evidence before arresting him for the crime.

Following is the description of the highwayman as given by the Chinese: A man about 30 years of age; medium height and weight; with a dark mustache, and wearing dark clothes. He was mounted on a bay horse.

RICH ORE BODY AT SHATTUCK-ARIZONA

Ten Per Cent Sulphide Body Carries Big Gold and Silver Values.

This morning L. C. Shattuck, B. M. Patton and a number of other local stockholders in the Shattuck-Arizona will go through the mine on a trip of inspection which is showing up in excellent condition.

On Sunday the new ore body was actually present and the ore was penetrated, and gives promise of being not only one of the largest but richest ore deposits in the district.

Three weeks ago in the No. 2 crosscut on the 700 level a breast of high grade sulphide ore was broken into, and since that time operations have been directed towards ascertaining its extent. Seventy-five feet of the ore was cut through before the crosscut again got into the limestone on Sunday. This ore body in all parts exposed up to the present time, runs better than 10 per cent in copper, and carries values of $7.00 per ton in gold and silver. Estimating the cost of shooting at $3 per ton, the gold and silver values in the latest ore body opened up will pay these as well as the cost of mining, leaving the copper value net profit.

With this ore body the Shattuck is in a still better position to make a record production as soon as arrangements can be made with the smelters for the handling of the ore, and there is no doubt in the minds of those in touch with the situation that within the next year the force employed at this mine will aggregate more than 1000 men.

NEW CAFE OPENS.

The Royal Cafe was opened on Sunday under the management of R. P. St. Germain and A. M. Tong under the most auspicious circumstances. The reputation of the two gentlemen in charge of the new restaurant attracted to the place a large number of people, and the service was everything that had been promised. There is no doubt that it is their intention to conduct a first-class cafe, and that they will be successful in their venture.

FACTS SURROUNDING DEATH OF GARRETT

Eye Witness Tells of the Killing of the Well Known Character.

In the El Paso Times of yesterday morning the following particulars of the killing of Pat Garrett appeared, being taken from that paper from Las Cruces, near where the killing occurred:

"A coroner's jury that viewed the remains has returned a verdict that Garrett came to his death as the result of pistol shot wounds inflicted by Brazile. The accused has telegraphed to Judge A. Fall at El Paso, asking that lawyer to defend him.

"There was one eye witness to the killing, Carl Adamson of Roswell. Sentiment here is divided, some believing that the killing was done in self-defense, and others that Garrett was the victim of a conspiracy.

"It is said that Garrett six months ago leased for a term of five years a ranch to Wayne Brazile and A. P. Rheden. On this property they placed a herd of sheep, and a few days ago, entered into an agreement with J. P. Turner of Roswell and Carl Adamson of Roswell to sublet the property to them. They also agreed, it is said, to sell these men their sheep. Garrett is said to have objected to this agreement, stating that he believed Brazile had forfeited his lease, and declaring his intention of resorting to the courts to establish his rights.

"The Killing Told By Adamson. "Garrett was dressed carefully when they set out for Las Cruces. He placed his Winchester pump gun in the bottom of the buggy before they started.

"About a mile from the little settlement at Organ, N. M., they overtook Brazile, riding alone on horseback, and the quarrel started at once. For a distance of about six miles the two men, Garrett and Brazile, continually quarreled. Then Adamson got out and walked alongside the horse to adjust some harness.

"Garrett stood up in the buggy, reached for his shotgun, and jumped out, shouting: 'G-d-d-m, you, if I can't get you off my ranch one way I will another.'

"First Two Fatal Shots. "He then had the shotgun in his hands. Brazile drew a Colt's 44. calibre revolver and fired twice, quickly. Garrett sank to the ground without a word and was dead before anybody reached him.

"Brazile surrendered to Deputy Coolidge throughout. A second after he shooting he turned to Adamson and said: 'This is hell, ain't it. I am going on to town and give myself up to the sheriff.'

"Leave Body by Roadside. "The two left the body of the last of New Mexico's famous gun men lying where it had fallen, face toward the sun, just by the roadside, and went on into Las Cruces, five miles away. The killing occurred in a little place called Organ, between Organ and Las Cruces.

"Brazile surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Felipe Lucero, and was locked in jail.

"The Coroner's Jury. "A coroner's jury composed of B. F. Baker, A. T. Satterlee, Fay Sperry, C. S. Pedregon, Hugh Clarey, Vincent May and Justice of the Peace and Coroner Manuel Lopez, was organized and went to the scene of the killing to view the remains.

"It was found that one bullet had passed through the head, entering from behind and passing out over the left eye. A second bullet had entered the left breast, about the seventh rib, and had passed out between the shoulder blades.

"The body was lying on its back, arms outstretched. The shotgun, loaded with No. 8 shot, was lying three feet away, and the trousers of the dead man, it is said, were unbuttoned. The corpse was brought here about 3:30 this afternoon, and was placed in Strong's undertaking establishment.

"The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Garrett came to his death from wounds inflicted with a revolver in the hands of Wayne Brazile. The preliminary hearing has been set for Monday morning at 10 o'clock before Justice Manuel Lopez.

"Friends Say Conspiracy. "Garrett's friends here are convinced that his death is the result of a cold-blooded conspiracy. The coroner's jury found that the first bullet that struck Garrett was the one that inflicted the wound in the head.

"The dead man's friends argue that he was shot from behind. They declare that a man firing on horseback would make a wound whose course would be that followed by this bullet.

"The fact that the bullet in the left chest entered about between the seventh and eighth ribs, and passed out behind the shoulder blades, they argue, shows that the second shot was fired after Garrett had fallen dead to the ground.

"They say that Garrett was not a man who would go hunting for another with a shotgun loaded with bird shot. They point to the fact that if he had intended to shoot Brazile he would never have turned his back to him when he stepped from the buggy.

"There is a great deal of discussion here about the alleged conspiracy to kill Garrett, and the whole town is very much excited over the killing. No demonstration has been made, however, and none is expected."

IS ARRAIGNED BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

Mrs. Mary Stanaway Alleged to Be Guilty of Adultery With D. W. Semple Is Taken Into Custody.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Mary Stanaway, against whom a warrant was sworn out in Tucson a couple of days ago charging her with adultery alleged to have been committed with D. W. Semple, for whom the authorities are now searching, was arraigned before R. C. Stanford, United States commissioner in this city, and released on $500 bond, pending her preliminary hearing which was set for March 9.

The complaints against Semple and Mrs. Stanaway were sworn out before United States Commissioner Richey in Tucson on Friday, it being alleged that the offence was committed in that city, and the first news obtainable was published in the Review on Sunday morning. In the meantime Semple had left the city on Friday evening, going north on the afternoon train, after spending a couple of days in the district. Up to the present time he has not been located, although there seems to be but little doubt that the United States marshal's office will have him in custody within a very short time.

Until yesterday morning it was impossible to ascertain where the other party complained of, Mrs. Stanaway's husband a few weeks ago was committed to the territorial insane asylum from Globe, where Semple was conducting a newspaper at that time. The instance complained of is alleged to have been committed since that time.

The pictures will be explained throughout by a competent lecturer, who was at the ringside during the contest.

The Iris Theater Company have secured these pictures for four days only and at a great expense, and tonight the entire house will be reserved a 50c per seat. Tomorrow night the charge will be 25c and 50c. The first 15 rows will be reserved at 50c, and the last rows will be the 25c, or general admission seats. The pictures were shown in Lowell last week, to a packed house, and now all the ladies are wondering why so many people say that prize fighting is brutal.

NOGALES MINING NEWS.

NOGALES, ARIZ., Feb. 29.—W. Z. Stuart, president of the Black Mountain Mining company's great gold mines at Cerro Prieto, who recently returned from a business trip to Chicago, was a visitor in the city from the mines, and later a northbound passenger on his way to California, where his family is spending the winter months.

President Stuart stated that all the stamps were dropping at the Cerro Prieto, where General Manager Atwater is now in charge. The installation of the new filter box is being rushed, and the new tube mills, seven in number, will shortly be put in commission.

Stockholders of the Zambona Development company have been notified that an important strike has recently been made in the company's mine at Minas Nevras, on the 700 level, south.

The recent new strike is the best made in the big old silver producer since it has been the property of the Zambona company.

Work is progressing nicely on the properties of the National Consolidated Mining company on the west side of the Patagonia mountains, a short distance northeast of Nogales, under the supervision of George D. Gross of this city. The party of stockholders who visited the property last week were greatly pleased with their visit and the able manner in which development work has been done during the present year. S. F. Johnson, a prominent Chicago business man, is one of the principal stockholders in the N. C. M. company, the main office of which is in Nogales.

J. T. McDonald, one of the veteran mining men of the Oro Blanco mining district, who far more time past has made his home in Los Angeles, is a visitor in Nogales, pending the closing of a big mining deal in which he and a number of Los Angeles people are interested. The property is owned by Don Ricardo Johnson, one of the best known mining men in the state of Sonora, where the mines are located.

Charles Phillips and Frank Durham came in from the Durango mines Monday. It is said that a stamp mill is now on the way for installation at the old gold mines which were recently acquired by eastern capitalists from Messrs. Irvine, Griswold and Phillips of Nogales, who some time ago bought the property from Peter Johnson of this city.

You can soon own a happy home, if you buy in Winwood.

CHANGE AT THE ORPHEUM.

On Sunday night at the Orpheum Theater the Sarah J. Gibney Stock Company presented, for the first time in the district, the strong play entitled "Mothers of Society." As the title would indicate, the plot of the play concerns the actions of people accustomed to move in the upper circles. The place is St. Petersburg. The bill is a strong one, and affords many opportunities for the display of talent on the part of the members of the troupe which they take advantage of. Miss Gibney scored another success to add to the many which have made her a great favorite locally. Miss Cottew, the new specialty artist, won round after round of applause with her clever dancing and singing.

BENSON NEWS NOTES

Gip Ellsworth and Mr. Ashman, who are crosscutting to strike the abandoned workings of the ancient mine on top of a mountain, twelve miles west of Benson, are in about forty feet from the side of the mountain where they started an open cut. They are cutting across time and iron and will reach the old workings in about 225 feet more, where they will be 200 feet below the top of the old abandoned shaft.

Steel is being laid this week on the spur at Dragon to transfer material for construction of the Johnson Dragon & Northern railway.
